14 Section 201 of the Unfunded Mandates Reform Act
15 of 1995 (2 U.S.C. 1531) is amended to read as follows:

16 “SEC. 201. REGULATORY PROCESS AND PRINCIPLES.

17       “(a) IN GENERAL.—Each agency shall, unless other-18 wise expressly prohibited by law, assess the effects of Fed-19 eral regulatory actions on State, local, and tribal govern-20 ments and the private sector (other than to the extent that 21 such regulatory actions incorporate requirements specifi-22 cally set forth in law) in accordance with the following 23 principles:

“(1) Each agency shall identify the problem that it intends to address (including, if applicable,

1       the failures of private markets or public institutions
2       that warrant new agency action) as well as assess 3       the significance of that problem.

4           “(2) Each agency shall examine whether exist-
5       ing regulations (or other law) have created, or con-6       tributed to, the problem that a new regulation is in-7       tended to correct and whether those regulations (or 8       other law) should be modified to achieve the in-9       tended goal of regulation more effectively.

10          “(3) Each agency shall identify and assess 11       available alternatives to direct regulation, including 12       providing economic incentives to encourage the de-13       sired behavior, such as user fees or marketable per-14       mits, or providing information upon which choices 15       can be made by the public.

16          “(4) If an agency determines that a regulation 17       is the best available method of achieving the regu-18       latory objective, it shall design its regulations in the 19       most cost-effective manner to achieve the regulatory 20       objective. In doing so, each agency shall consider in-21       centives for innovation, consistency, predictability, 22       the costs of enforcement and compliance (to the gov-23       ernment, regulated entities, and the public), flexi-24       bility, distributive impacts, and equity.

1           “(5) Each agency shall assess both the costs
2       and the benefits of the intended regulation and, rec-3       ognizing that some costs and benefits are difficult to 4       quantify, propose or adopt a regulation, unless ex-5       pressly prohibited by law, only upon a reasoned de-6       termination that the benefits of the intended regula-7       tion justify its costs.

8           “(6) Each agency shall base its decisions on the 9       best reasonably obtainable scientific, technical, eco-10       nomic, and other information concerning the need 11       for, and consequences of, the intended regulation.

12          “(7) Each agency shall identify and assess al-13       ternative forms of regulation and shall, to the extent 14       feasible, specify performance objectives, rather than 15       specifying the behavior or manner of compliance 16       that regulated entities must adopt.

17          “(8) Each agency shall avoid regulations that 18       are inconsistent, incompatible, or duplicative with its 19       other regulations or those of other Federal agencies.

20          “(9) Each agency shall tailor its regulations to 21       minimize the costs of the cumulative impact of regu-22       lations.

23          “(10) Each agency shall draft its regulations to 24       be simple and easy to understand, with the goal of 1 minimizing the potential for uncertainty and litiga-

2 tion arising from such uncertainty.

3       “(b) REGULATORY ACTION DEFINED.—In this sec-4 tion, the term ‘regulatory action’ means any substantive 5 action by an agency (normally published in the Federal 6 Register) that promulgates or is expected to lead to the 7 promulgation of a final rule or regulation, including ad-
8 vance notices of proposed rulemaking and notices of pro-9 posed rulemaking.”.

10 SEC. 9. EXPANDING THE SCOPE OF STATEMENTS TO AC-
11 COMPANY SIGNIFICANT REGULATORY AC-
12 TIONS.

13       (a) IN GENERAL.—Subsection (a) of section 202 of 14 the Unfunded Mandates Reform Act of 1995 (2 U.S.C.
15 1532) is amended to read as follows:

“(a) IN GENERAL.—Unless otherwise expressly prohibited by law, before promulgating any general notice of proposed rulemaking or any final rule, or within six months after promulgating any final rule that was not preceded by a general notice of proposed rulemaking, if the proposed rulemaking or final rule includes a Federal mandate that may result in an annual effect on State, local, or tribal governments, or to the private sector, in the aggregate of $100,000,000 or more in any 1 year, the agency shall prepare a written statement containing the following:

1           “(1) The text of the draft proposed rulemaking 2 or final rule, together with a reasonably detailed de-3 scription of the need for the proposed rulemaking or 4 final rule and an explanation of how the proposed 5 rulemaking or final rule will meet that need.

6           “(2) An assessment of the potential costs and 7 benefits of the proposed rulemaking or final rule, in-8 cluding an explanation of the manner in which the 9 proposed rulemaking or final rule is consistent with 10 a statutory requirement and avoids undue inter-11 ference with State, local, and tribal governments in 12 the exercise of their governmental functions.

13           “(3) A qualitative and quantitative assessment,
14 including the underlying analysis, of benefits antici-
15 pated from the proposed rulemaking or final rule 16 (such as the promotion of the efficient functioning of 17 the economy and private markets, the enhancement 18 of health and safety, the protection of the natural 19 environment, and the elimination or reduction of dis-20 crimination or bias).

21           “(4) A qualitative and quantitative assessment,
22 including the underlying analysis, of costs antici-
23 pated from the proposed rulemaking or final rule 24 (such as the direct costs both to the Government in 25 administering the final rule and to businesses and

1       others in complying with the final rule, and any ad-
2       verse effects on the efficient functioning of the econ-
3       omy, private markets (including productivity, em-4       ployment, and international competitiveness), health, 5       safety, and the natural environment).

6           “(5) Estimates by the agency, if and to the ex-7       tent that the agency determines that accurate esti-8       mates are reasonably feasible, of—9              “(A) the future compliance costs of the 10       Federal mandate; and 11              “(B) any disproportionate budgetary ef-

12       fects of the Federal mandate upon any par-13       ticular regions of the Nation or particular 14       State, local, or tribal governments, urban or 15       rural or other types of communities, or par-16       ticular segments of the private sector.

17           “(6)(A) A detailed description of the extent of 18       the agency’s prior consultation with the private sec-
19       tor and elected representatives (under section 204)
20       of the affected State, local, and tribal governments.

21           “(B) A detailed summary of the comments and 22       concerns that were presented by the private sector
23       and State, local, or tribal governments either orally 24       or in writing to the agency.

1           “(C) A detailed summary of the agency’s eval-
2       uation of those comments and concerns.

3           “(7) A detailed summary of how the agency 4       complied with each of the regulatory principles de-5       scribed in section 201.”.

6           (b) REQUIREMENT FOR DETAILED SUMMARY.—Sub-7       section (b) of section 202 of such Act is amended by in-8       serting “detailed” before “summary”.

9 SEC. 10. ENHANCED STAKEHOLDER CONSULTATION.

10          Section 204 of the Unfunded Mandates Reform Act
11       of 1995 (2 U.S.C. 1534) is amended—

12           (1) in the section heading, by inserting “AND 13       PRIVATE SECTOR” before “INPUT”;

14           (2) in subsection (a)—

15           (A) by inserting “, and impacted parties 16       within the private sector (including small busi-17       ness),” after “on their behalf”; and 18           (B) by striking “Federal intergovernmental 19       mandates” and inserting “Federal mandates”; 20       and

21           (3) by amending subsection (c) to read as fol-22       lows:

23           “(c) GUIDELINES.—For appropriate implementation 24       of subsections (a) and (b) consistent with applicable laws 25       and regulations, the following guidelines shall be followed:

1           “(1) Consultations shall take place as early as 2           possible, before issuance of a notice of proposed rule-3           making, continue through the final rule stage, and 4           be integrated explicitly into the rulemaking process.

5           “(2) Agencies shall consult with a wide variety
6           of State, local, and tribal officials and impacted par-7           ties within the private sector (including small busi-8           nesses). Geographic, political, and other factors that 9           may differentiate varying points of view should be 10           considered.

11           “(3) Agencies should estimate benefits and 12           costs to assist with these consultations. The scope of 13           the consultation should reflect the cost and signifi-
14           cance of the Federal mandate being considered.

15           “(4) Agencies shall, to the extent practicable—16                “(A) seek out the views of State, local, and 17                tribal governments, and impacted parties within 18                the private sector (including small business), on 19                costs, benefits, and risks; and 20                “(B) solicit ideas about alternative meth-21                ods of compliance and potential flexibilities, and 22                input on whether the Federal regulation will 23                harmonize with and not duplicate similar laws 24                in other levels of government.

1           “(5) Consultations shall address the cumulative
2        impact of regulations on the affected entities.

3           “(6) Agencies may accept electronic submissions 4        of comments by relevant parties but may not 5        use those comments as the sole method of satisfying 6        the guidelines in this subsection.”.

7   SEC. 11. NEW AUTHORITIES AND RESPONSIBILITIES FOR 8           OFFICE OF INFORMATION AND REGULATORY 9           AFFAIRS.

25        or conflict with the policies or actions of another agency,

1 the Administrator shall identify areas of non-compliance, 2 notify the agency, and request that the agency comply be-3 fore the agency finalizes the regulation concerned.

4       (b) ANNUAL STATEMENTS TO CONGRESS ON AGEN-
